THE GOVERNOR'S REASONS.

Governor O'Ferrall, in granting the petition for pardon, gave the following reasons for his action:

This case has received my most earnest consideration. My predecessor, Governor McKinney, commuted the sentence of teath pronounced to life imprisonment in McKinney, commuted the death pronounced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. Petitions, embracing about 1,40 names of reputable citizens of the Southwest section of the State, for the pardon of the prisoner, have been presented. Conspicuous among the petitioners are Hon. H. WAY TO HELP LABOR.

It Is to Provide It with Steady Work at Good Wages Paid in Sound Money-Remedy for Agricultural Distress Protection.

CANTON, O., August 24.-Eight hundred citizens of East Liverpool, O., under the auspices of the McKinley and Hobart Club, of that city, called on Major Mc-Kinley this morning. East Liverpool is the centre of the pottery industry in Ohio, and most of the men in the delegation were workmen from the potteries. This delegation came on a special train, and marched up the streets with flags flying and bands playing. The spokesman was introduced by William Surla, the marshal of the day. The spokesman was U. V. Blake, a potter who works at the bench. He made an excellent address to Major McKinley, congratulating Ratiroad Company, died there to-day of him on the fact that he had remained a true and steadfast advocate of protection true and steadfast advocate of protection principles, and assuring him that the workingmen of Eastern Ohio were enthusiastic in his support.

Three rousing cheers were given for Major McKinley before he was permitted to speak. The Major spoke with great vigor. He said that twenty years ago he faced an East Liverpool audience for the first time, and that then, as now, he was speaking for protection and sound money. It is then described present conditions, comparing them with those which existed under the Harrison Administration. The under the Harrison Administration. The way to help labor, declared Major Mc-Kinley, is to provide it with steady work Kinley, is to provide it with steady work and good wages, and then have those wages all paid in good money, as sound as the government and as untarnished as its flag. "No matter what kind of money we have, we cannot get it without work—whether it is poor or good—gold or silver. We cannot get one dollar unless we have employment for our hands

This solutiment was greeted with pro-longed cheers. DELEGATION OF FARMERS.

A short time after the East Liverpool workingmen departed, a large delegation of farmers from Knox county. O., of farmers from Knox county, O., marched up to the McKinley residence. They were most warmly greeted along their line of march. It was the first delegation composed entirely of farmers which has visited McKinley since his nomination, and there was uncommon interest on the part of the citizens of Canton, irrespective of party, to hear what the farmers would say to McKinley, and what he would say to McKinley, and what he would say to them, for in this State, as eisewhere, the farmers have been deeply interested in the discussion of the silver question.

Their spokesmen, H. D. Crutchfield, explained in his address to Major McKinley that Knox county is a typical agricultural community of the Central States, and that it contains men of all shades of opinion. The Populists have been active there, he said, and still are, "but we are here to assure you, Major McKinley, that the vote of every Republican, and those of some of the Democrats of the county, will be cast for you."

When Major McKinley stepped upon the chair to speak the 500 farmers who faced him cheered long and lustily, Major McKinley spoke with deliberation at first, reading from a type-written manuscript. His speech was full of points which were earnestly applauded. Deof farmers from Knox county, O. marched up to the McKinley residence.

first, reading from a type-written manuscript. His speech was full of points which were earnestly applauded. Depression in agriculture always follows low-tariff legislation, he declared. The farmer is suffering to-day because the number of his competitors has increased, and his best customers are out of work. We cannot decrease competition, but a restoration of the protective policy would give work to your customers.

The delegation was one of the most enthusiastic that has visited Canton, and gave evidence of the deepest interest in the discussion of the money and tariff
